Bleek Noir is the Alternative/Dark/Lo-Fi project of songwriter, musician, and recording artist Christopher J Fox.

Bleek Noir has developed a truly signature dark, dramatic, head spinning, somewhat-angular and emotive sound. Reviews have praised Fox's lyrical prowess, and the power of Bleek Noir.

With eleven releases under his belt, since the conception of Bleek Noir in 2017, Fox has amassed quite a discography of distinctive and compelling alternative music.

A "moving" and arresting musical experience for audiences of all kinds, the songwriting drags the mind to the unique world that Fox's music is born from.

Constantly evolving, but remaining true to a style that is his alone, Fox is unwavering in his production of music that is as lyrical as it is acerbic, as dark and dramatic as it is uplifting, as obtuse as it is hooky, and created out of need. As an exorcism.

Touring professionally in various guises in the past, those familiar with Fox's previous live work will know that his music's intensity is not exclusive to his recorded works.

Ending 2019 with the release of the "Throw Yourself Inside" EP, and beginning 2020 with new single "Do Me A Favour", a new EP is promised before Spring.

The new Bleek Noir EP "The Garden de Sade" is yet another masterpiece of Dark and broody fun. Dark and atonal, with mystery and shadows Bleek Noir has brought a Victorian Era and Nuevo Goth sound to the light of day. Imagine if Halloween had an emotional cry of love. - Indie Pulse Music Blog
