Bleek Noir is the alias of songwriter, musician, and recording artist Christopher J Fox.

Releasing over 10 EP's since the conception of Bleek Noir in 2017, Fox has amassed a sizeable discography of distinctive and compelling alternative music.

"An advocate of the darker and more lugubrious aspects of life, there's a rich vein of unsmiling vaudevillian splendour amongst the musical acrobatics. In this guise of Bleek Noir, Christopher J Fox continues his evolution as an alternative and unique presence." - Louder Than War

"Fox's alter ego is a fevered imagination and colourful brew that gets right into the brain and spikes the imagination. Bleek Noir is a head-spinning cocktail that will shake-up music and provide a rare fascination." - Music Musings & Such

"Dark & atonal, with mystery and shadows, Bleek Noir has brought a victorian Era and Nuevo Goth sound to the light of day. Imagine if halloween had an emotional cry of love." - Indie Pulse Music

Recorded in early 2022 "Sounds Behind the Night" is a total departure for Bleek Noir - a short collection more accessible than ever before.

A less angular offering, this collection of songs, including the recent single "Is It Only Me?", captures a newly refined version of Bleek Noirs' unmistakable sound.

More proudly demonstrating Fox's interest in more traditional songwriting, and classic alternative music sensibilities, "Sounds Behind the Night" (heard on BBC Introducing) is a wholly different storm.
